Recognition of independence of Czecho-Slovaks, June 30, 1918.¹

[New York Times, Current History, 8 (pt. 2), 489.]

M. PICHON, French Minister of Foreign Affairs to Czecho-Slovak National Council.

At the moment when the first unity of the autonomous Czecho-slovak Army of France is preparing to quit its quarters and, having received its flag, to proceed to man a sector amidst its French brothers in arms, the Government of the Republic deems it equitable and necessary to proclaim the rights of your Nation to independence. * * * For long centuries the Czecho-Slovak Nation possessed the incomparable blessing of independence. It was deprived of it by the violence of the Hapsburgs allied with Germanic princes. The historic rights of nations are imprescriptible. It is for the defense of these rights that France, attacked, is fighting to-day, together with her allies. The cause of the Czechs is specially dear to it. * * *

In the name of the Government of the Republic, I express the sincerest and warmest wishes that the Czecho-Slovak State may soon become by the common efforts of all the allies, in close union with Poland and the Jugo-Slav State, an impassable barrier to Germanic aggression and a factor of peace in a Europe reconstructed according to the principles of justice and the right of nationalities.

GERMANY.

SOJOURN OF VESSELS.

Regulations regarding the admission and treatment of war vessels and prizes of belligerents in the harbors and waters of the German coast and the German colonies, May 14, 1913.

1. With reference to the admission of warships, there shall apply articles 1 to 3 of the "Regulations regarding the admission and treatment of foreign warships in the harbors and waters of the German coast" of May 24, 1910.

ARTICLE 1.

War vessels (warships and war craft) of foreign powers require no special permission for calling at fortified and unfortified German harbors and river mouths and for the navigation of inland waters. Nevertheless a notice of the impending visit must be transmitted in good time through diplomatic channels.

Without this, foreign war vessels, with the exception of the cases given in article 2, may neither cross the outermost line of defense (fortification) nor stop in roads, harbors, river mouths, or inland waters. (With reference to the use of the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal, see article 3.)

The number of war vessels belonging to the same foreign nation that are permitted to stop at the same time in a fortified or unfortified harbor, etc., is, as a rule, limited to three. Exceptions require permission requested through diplomatic channels.

ARTICLE 2.

The foregoing regulations do not apply.

(a) To vessels that have on board sovereigns, members of families of sovereigns, presidents of republics or their suites, or ambassadors or envoys to the courts of His Majesty the Kaiser;

(b) To vessels which have been obliged by danger of sea or by accident to stop in a German harbor, etc.

ARTICLE 3.

For passage through the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal foreign war vessels require previous permission transmitted through diplomatic channels. In case a previous notice through diplomatic channels is not possible, it is to be communicated without delay through the local authorities.

2. Commissioned pilots may be granted ("zugestanden") only for a direct trip from the sea into a harbor, or for a direct trip from the harbor to the open sea.

3. In the waters under German sovereignty war vessels of belligerents are obliged to refrain from all hostilities including capture, interception, and the practice of the right of search. Neither may they hold any prize court therein.

4. Within the ports and roads they may repair injuries only to such an extent as is necessary for their safety of navigation, but they may neither repair, strengthen, or increase their military stores or armament, nor enlarge their complements, nor in any other way heighten their military power.

5. At each visit they may replenish their supplies of coal to the full capacity of their bunkers. They may also increase their stores of food and drink and of anything else necessary for their peaceable operation of the ship.

6. They must leave waters under German sovereignty 14 days at the latest after their arrival therein or, in case they have to remain longer in order to carry out such work as is specified in article 4, immediately after the completion of the said work.

In case the weather should make it impossible for them to leave then, or in case the conditions set forth in article 9 should come into effect, permission to remain will be extended for the necessary length of time.

7. In the harbors which are situated in the immediate neighborhood of the seat of war,¹ article 6 applies with the sole change that the words "24 hours" shall be substituted for "14 days."

8. The provisions of articles 6 and 7 do not apply to war vessels which are engaged exclusively in religious, scientific, or philanthropic work.

9. If there should be present simultaneously in the harbor or roadstead war vessels of both belligerents, at least 24 hours must elapse between the departure of ships of one belligerent and that of ships of the other. In case both parties have at the outset chosen the same day for departure, the order of their departure shall be determined by that of their arrival.

Warships of a belligerent may not leave a harbor or a roadstead less than 24 hours after the departure of a merchant vessel flying the flag of the enemy of the said belligerent.

10. Prizes may put in only:

(a) On account of unseaworthiness, or bad weather, or on account of deficiency in fuel or supplies, in which cases they must leave again as soon as the cause that justified their putting in has been removed.

(b) When they are to be allowed to remain in the harbor until the prize court has made its decision, in which case they must be given over to the neutral German authorities for safekeeping.

Issued at the New Palace, May 14, 1913.

It is urgently requested to warn neutral shipping with all available means and to direct them off the forbidden zones.

Regulations, enemy character of vessels, July 16, 1917.²

In further retaliation of the orders of England and her allies in regard to international law at sea, I approve for the present war of the following change in the prize rules:

A neutral ship is to be considered and treated as an enemy ship if the property of the same (Eigenthum) is wholly or for the greatest part owned by citizens of enemy states, or if it has been chartered by an enemy government, or if it has been placed on the seas in the interest of the enemies conduct of war.

As citizens of enemy states in the sense of this ordinance are also to be considered judicial persons or societies of other countries which have their seat in enemy countries. It will be considered as equal to location in an enemy country if the capital belongs overwhelmingly to citizens of enemy countries, or if the management is carried on by enemy citizens or is directed from or controlled by an enemy country. The same holds good if the fact has been established that capital or other means to carry on the business is contributed from citizens of enemy countries or from enemy countries themselves.

² Amendment to Arts. 11 and 55c, of German Prize Code, Sept. 30, 1909, published in Reichsgesetzblatt, Aug. 3, 1914, No. 50. (English translation, Hertslet, Commercial Treaties, 1915.) This code was amended, Oct. 18, Nov. 23, and Dec. 14, 1914, and Apr. 18, 1915. (See United States, Diplomatic Correspondence with Belligerent Governments, May 27, 1915, p. 30.)

Notice of defensive sea area around German Bay, March 17, 1918.

BERLIN, March 17, 1918.

The German Admiralty has published the following warning:

In consequence of the conduct of British naval forces in the waters around the German Bay declared to be barred by England, the German Government sees herself compelled to take measures which makes neutral shipping in these waters very dangerous. Neutral shipping is therefore urgently warned to stay away from these waters with the statement that the German Government will not guarantee for the consequences, except it is done in conformity with special directions which have to be obtained from the German Government in each individual case. The boundaries of the waters in question are: From the point of intersection of latitude $57^{\circ} 8'$ north, with the Danish territorial boundary, over point $57^{\circ} 8'$ north, 6° east, 56° north, $4^{\circ} 17'$ east, $58^{\circ} 29'$ north, $4^{\circ} 4'$ east, 53° east, $4^{\circ} 10'$ east, to the intersection point of latitude 53° with the Dutch sovereignty lines.

Regulations, enemy character of vessels, April 21, 1918.¹

In case conditions do not point to the contrary a neutral ship must be considered as sailing in enemy war interests, when the country, the flag of which the vessel has a right to fly, has made an agreement with an enemy country relating to the cession of tonnage, or when the greater portion of the navigating commercial fleet of the country in question is in the service of the enemy.

RECOGNITION OF INTERNATIONAL STATUS.

Recognition of independence of Russian Poland, November 4, 1916.²

TO THE INHABITANTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF WARSAW:

His Majesty, the German Emperor, and his Majesty, the Austrian Emperor and Apostolic King of Hungary, sustained by their firm confidence in the final victory of their arms, and guided by the wish to lead to a happy future the Polish districts which, by their brave armies were snatched with heavy sacrifices from Russian power, have agreed to form from these districts an independent State, with a hereditary monarchy and a constitution. The more precise regulation of the frontiers of the Kingdom of Poland remains reserved.

In union with both the Allied Powers the new Kingdom will find the guarantees which it desires for the free development of its strength. In its own army the glorious traditions of the Polish Army of former times and the memory of our brave Polish fellow-combatants in the great war of the present time will continue to live. Its organization, training, and command will be regulated by mutual agreement. The allied monarchs confidently hope that their wishes for the State and national development of the Kingdom of Poland will now be fulfilled with the necessary regard to the general political conditions of Europe and to the welfare and security of their own country and peoples.

The great western neighbors of the Kingdom of Poland will see with pleasure arise again and flourish at their eastern frontier a free and happy State rejoicing in its national life.

By order of His Majesty, the German Emperor:

Statement of Dr. von Kuhlmann, President of Conference at Brest-Litovsk.

Gentlemen, none of you will be able to close his eyes to the historical significance of this hour, at which the representatives of the four allied powers are met with the representatives of the Ukrainian People's Republic to sign the first peace attained in this world war.² This peace, signed with your young State, which has emerged from the stress of the great war, gives special satisfaction to the representatives of the allied delegation. May this peace be the first of a series of blessed conclusions—peace blessed both for the allied powers and for the Ukrainian People's Republic, for the future of which we all cherish the best wishes.

Recognition of independence of Lithuania, March 24, 1918.³

Note of German Chancellor von Hertling to a delegation of the Lithuanian National Council.

Whereas the Lithuanian National Council, as recognized representatives of the Lithuanian people, on December 11, 1917, declared Lithuania an independent State united with Germany through eternal and close alliances and connections in traffic, monetary, and other fields, and asked Germany's protection and help in reconstruction of the State, we hereby recognize Lithuania as free and independent. The German Empire is prepared to lend Lithuania the required help and, in concert with Lithuania's population, to take the necessary measures. Conventions for the establishment of confederation with the German Empire will be made. The Imperial Government presupposes that the conventions will be to Germany's interest as well as Lithuania's, and Lithuania will take a share of Germany's war burdens, which are promoting Lithuania's emancipation. A formal document of recognition of Lithuania's independence will be forwarded to the National Council.

Manifesto of German Chancellor concerning abdication of Emperor, November 9, 1918.

[Official U. S. Bulletin, No. 460, p. 4.]

NAUEN, November 9, 1918.

(Received by Navy Radio Service, Nov. 10, 1918.)

German Chancellor Prince Max von Baden publishes the following manifesto:

Emperor and King has decided to abdicate the throne. Chancellor will remain so long in office until the questions connected with the abdication of Emperor, renunciation of the throne by Crown Prince of German Empire and of Prussia, and of introduction of regency are regulated. He intends to propose to the regent the appointment of Reichstag member Ebert as chancellor and the bringing in of a bill for the immediate proclamation for a general election of a German national constituent assembly which will have the duty of determining the future political form of German people, including those parts of nationalities who should wish to enter within the limits of the State.

(Signed) MAX, PRINCE VON BADEN,
German Chancellor.

TRANSEAN, BERLIN, November 9.

Act of abdication by German Emperor, November 28, 1918.¹

By the present document I renounce forever my rights to the crown of Prussia and the rights to the German imperial crown. I release at the same time all the officials of the German Empire and Prussia and also all officers and noncommissioned officers and soldiers of the Prussian Navy and Army and of contingents from confederated States from the oath of fidelity they have taken to me as their Emperor, King, and supreme chief.

I expect from them until a new organization of the German Empire exists that they will aid those who effectively hold the power in Germany to protect the German people against the menacing dangers of anarchy, famine, and foreign domination.

Made and executed and signed by our own hand with the imperial seal at Amerongen, November 28.

WILLIAM.

Le Commandant en Chef des Armées Alliées occupera ce réseau militairement, en assurera la direction et fera, dans le personnel, tous les remplacements et mutations qu'il jugera utile.

Il renverra à l'Armée Allemande tout le personnel militaire qu'il n'estimera pas nécessaire pour l'exploitation et l'entretien du réseau.

Declaration Made by German Plenipotentiaries on Signing Armistice.

German Government will naturally endeavour with all its power to take care that the duties imposed upon it shall be carried out.

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries recognize that in certain points regard has been paid to their suggestions. They can therefore regard the comments made on November 9th on the conditions of the Armistice with Germany and the answer handed to them

Die deutsche Regierung wird selbstverständlich bestrebt sein, mit allen Kräften für die Durchführung der auferlegten Verpflichtungen Sorge zu tragen.

Die unterzeichneten Bevollmächtigten erkennen an, dass in einigen Punkten auf ihre Anregung hin Entgegenkommen gezeigt worden ist. Sie dürfen daher die am 9. November übergebenen Bemerkungen zu den Bedingungen des Waffenstillstands mit on November 10th as an essential condition of the whole agreement.

They must, however, allow no doubt to exist on the point that in particular the short time allowed for evacuation as well as the surrender of indispensable means of transport threaten to bring about a state of things which without its being the fault of the German Government and the German people may render impossible the further fulfilment of the conditions.

The undersigned Plenipotentiaries further regard it as their duty with reference to their repeated oral and written declaration once more to point out with all possible emphasis that the carrying out of this agreement must throw the German people into anarchy and famine. According to the declarations which preceded the Armistice, conditions were to be expected which while completely ensuring the military situation of our opponents would have ended the sufferings of women and children who took no part in the war.

The German people, which has held its own for fifty months against a world of enemies, will in spite of any force that may be brought to bear upon it preserve its freedom and unity.

A people of 70 millions suffers but does not die.

Deutschland und die ihnen am 10. November überreichte Antwort als einen integrierenden Bestandteil des Gesamtabkommens ansehen.

Sie dürfen aber keinen Zweifel darüber lassen, dass insbesondere die Kürze der Räumungsfristen sowie die Abgabe unentbehrlicher Transportmittel einer Zustand herbeizuführen drohen, der ohne Verschulden der deutschen Regierung und des deutschen Volkes die weitere Erfüllung der Bedingungen unmöglich machen kann.

Die unterzeichneten Beyollmächtigten erachten es ferner für ihre Pflicht, unter Berufung auf ihre wiederholten mündlichen und schriftlichen Erklärungen noch einmal mit allem Nachdruck darauf hinzuweisen, dass die Durchführung dieses Abkommens das deutsche Volk in Anarchie und Hungersnot stürzen muss. Nach den Kundgebungen, die den Waffenstillstand eingeleitet haben, mussten Bedingungen erwartet werden, die bei voller militärischer Sicherung unserer Gegner die Qualen der am Kampfe Unbeteiligten, der Frauen und Kinder, beendet hätten.

Das deutsche Volk, das 50 Monate lang Stand gehalten hat gegen eine Welt von Feinden, wird ungeachtet jeder Gewalt seine Freiheit und Einheit wahren.

Ein Volk von 70 Millionen leidet, aber es stirbt nicht.

¹ This condition was first announced in a note of the Allies, Dec. 12, 1918, in which infractions of 12 articles of the armistice by Germany were listed. These included failure to deliver war material, aircraft, railroad rolling stock, and naval vessels in the time and quantity provided. In connection with the last category the statement read: "Five submarines in Spain, one in Norway, and one in Netherlands ought to be delivered," and "The refusal of the German Government to deliver the vessels condemned by the prize court is considered as contrary to the terms of the armistice." Other infractions were stated to be ill treatment of inhabitants of evacuated territory and neglect of liberated prisoners of war; failure to indicate live mines in evacuated regions; failure to open navigation to the Baltic and removal of securities and gold reserves pledged as a financial guaranty to the allies. Germany replied on the same day asserting her good faith and that such infractions as had occurred were due to physical impossibilities and the upset condition of the country. The allies, however, reasserted the new condition, taking account particularly "of the ill treatment and cruelty inflicted upon allied prisoners as well as the diminution of financial guaranties given by Germany to the allies." Proclamation relating to use of radio telegraphy on vessels in territorial waters, August 1, 1914.

[London Gazette, Aug. 2, 1914, pp. 6047, 6068.]

General Post Office.

In pursuance of regulation 5 of the Wireless Telegraph (Foreign Ships) Regulations, 1908,¹ I, the right honourable Charles Edward Henry Hobhouse, His Majesty's postmaster general, do hereby give notice that in the opinion of the right honourable Reginald McKenna, one of His Majesty's principal secretaries of state, an emergency has arisen in which it is expedient for the public service that His Majesty's Government should have control over the transmission of messages by wireless telegraphy, and that the use of wireless telegraphy on board foreign ships whilst in the territorial waters of the British Isles will be subject to such rules² as may be made by the Admiralty.

Dated the first day of August, 1914.

² Admiralty, S. W., 3d August, 1914. With reference to the notification published by the postmaster general on the 2d instant, the following regulations have been made by the lords commissioners of the admiralty prohibiting the use of wireless telegraphy by merchant vessels in the territorial waters of the United Kingdom and Channel Islands:

1. The use of wireless telegraphy is prohibited in the harbours and territorial waters of the United Kingdom and Channel Islands.
2. On entering any port or harbor or on directions being given to that effect by any naval, military, examination service, customs or police officer, the aerial wire or antenna is to be at once lowered, disconnected from its halliards, and from the operating room, and is not to be rehoisted while the ship remains in British territorial waters.
3. Any breach of these regulations renders the masters of offending ships liable to penalties and to the confiscation of the wireless apparatus of their ships.

NOTE.—These regulations do not apply to ships owned (not chartered) by the Admiralty, whether they fly the blue or the red ensign.

By command of their lordships.
