Regulations for sojourn of armed merchant vessels, 1917.

[Hongkong Daily Press, Mar. 23, 1917.]

A report states that the Chinese Government has drawn up the following regulations, to which armed merchantmen of all the belligerents entering Chinese ports shall be subject:

(1) Any belligerent merchantman which is armed specifically for the purpose of self-defense shall be permitted to enter and depart from any Chinese port to which the said merchantman had previous regular sailings.

(2) On entering the port the captain of such armed merchantman must declare to the customshouse of the port that the armament of the ship is merely for self-defense.

(3) After report to the customshouse, the authorities thereof shall send officers together with the naval officers of the port to visit the vessel and inspect the armament on board. Whether the vessel is armed only for self-defense or not shall be determined according to the following circumstances provided:

(a) The number of guns on board the ship, their caliber and ammunition and other armament are adequate only for self-defense.

(b) The number of officers and crew of the ship does not show a marked increase over normal times.

(c) The port the ship touches is one to which the ship has been engaged in trading or had regular sailings.

(d) The food supply on board the ship consists only of such quantity as would be just sufficient to cover the voyage to the next port it is destined to touch.

(e) Goods on board the ship are not suitable for warships or for hostile purposes.

(f) Passengers on board the ship are not in organized units nor of such quality as to be organized into military or naval forces under ordinary circumstances.

After the inspection of the customs and naval authorities, a report on the above circumstances should be made to the Government and the latter thereby shall determine whether the vessel is an armed merchantman or a warship according to the circumstances under which it is armed.
